5. Considerations and possible action to approve a change in Police Officer Edyta Tabor-Dakowicz membership date with PSPRS effective 03/10/2008 – APPROVED

Ariana Reyna provided the following as background information: Human Resources conducted an internal audit on PSPRS Police members and compared their recorded service dates of when the employees switched from recruits to actual Police Officer status versus what PSPRS has on file for service credit purposes. HR found a discrepancy for Edyta. Employee and employer contributions to PSPRS started immediately after her date of hire, which was 03/10/2008. Specifically, the first contribution made into PSPRS was made on 03/23/2008. However, her membership date currently reflects 08/29/2008. The request to change Edyta's membership date to 03/10/2008 is to give her credit for the contributions already made on her behalf and is consistent with the City's previous practice on fixing a similar issue for another Officer.

James Conner voiced concerns about the validity of the reports in relation to a long-term disability benefit for the applicant. Chandler Brown agreed and added that there is conflicting information between the psychologist and psychiatrist reports but ultimately they both concluded with the same diagnosis and feels like he doesn't have a choice but to approve. Ian Murton stated that there is also a concern for the way that the application was filed and how the records were presented alluded to dates of diagnosis after the application was filed.

Kathryn Baillie, legal counsel for Edyta Tabor-Dakowicz, stated that ultimately the Board's medical examiners concluded that her client meets the standards for disability under PSPRS as she's unable to function even in another position with the City of Surprise.
